*State-wide, cross-country, over-the-seas,
I make my home.*

*From Asheville, Georgia, Norway,
I have come to glean new knowledge . . .
establish new friendships . . .

*Above, beyond,
I see many doors.*

*From all campus corners
they beckon before me - a challenge to unlatch . . .
to open . . .
to enter.*

*What lies beyond these portals?
Through which ones shall I pass?*

PROLOGUE

The summer panorama slowly wanes The lazy days of wine and roses wither into memories
. . . . The campus beckons and we emerge, sun-tanned and sun-bleached An aura of "newness" pervades the atmosphere—new dean, new dining hall, new registration system We greet old friends, brave bookstore lines, harass the freshmen and through it all we are wondering, waiting, wishing for the doors of our new year to unfold the unknown

The weeks evolve and we succumb to the fever, the flutter, the frenzy of collegiate sports The stands shudder with the echoes of emotion Littered bleachers broadcast a memorial message of past pleasures Through it all remains the august athlete, eager for the victories that will glorify his school

The weeks become months as we pass through waiting doors, and our moments of levity project the image of exuberant youth . . . We reflect our moments of spirit and sentiment through the aura of animated sports fans . . . the nostalgic appreciation of a girl and her smile . . . the intense rhythm generated by "The Dog" . . .

Yet engulfing us always is that cloud of compulsion which drives us to books and desks, libraries and typewriters Homer and Nasser, Luther and Rockefeller are part of our passage through doorways Knowledge means four quizzes, three labs and two term papers in one week—yet every step brings us closer to meeting the challenges of the twentieth century

Our year darkens swiftly when, numbed as a nation, we join millions throughout the world to watch a tragic today become history For four black days we crowd dorm lounges and living rooms
Some trek 300 miles to Washington . . . All pay humble tribute to our country's martyred head

Yet resounding above the knell of despair is the sweeter tune of Hope, wafting down paths with a harmony which we decree for ourselves Along these paths we learn to look up, to love, and to laugh.

A DOORMAN To Knowledge . . .

A wisp of cloud . . . a sturdy willow, perhaps, or a mellow mountain . . . for you are all of these to us.

You are an amazing composite of gentleness and energy, docility and strength . . .

You have stood before us with your ease and tranquility and in that same moment opened for us a storehouse of wisdom . . .

You have inspired us to learn the answers simply because we knew that anything less than right would be an injustice to ourselves . . .

You have been a source of respect for a multitude of minds . . .

You have demanded so little, yet given so much . . .

You are Wisdom and Experience, Patience and Peace . . .

Because you possess our esteem, our love, and our gratitude, we, the Class of 1964, dedicate our Hacawa to an admirable friend and professor—a tribute to you,

Dr. Homer R. Greenholt

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Every station in life is surrounded by numerous doors of wide variety, leading in all directions. They may open the way to intellectual pursuits, social development, spiritual enrichment, recreation, entertainment or sensual indulgence. Each individual has arrived at his present position through the selection of doors to enter or to avoid.

The doors you use, and how you use them, and how frequently, reveal your course and destination. They determine the kind of person you become. A mark of the educated man is his ability to recognize doors and his discrimination in using them. Frequently he will pass through for glorious adventure into life's expanding frontiers. Again he will shut the doors of his inner closet to find the solitude for profound reflection.

Indeed, there is magic in doors. They open and close. A good mark of wisdom is to discern when to enter and when to bar them.

An evening at home over the Scrabble board.

Peanuts and punch for the President.

NURSES

The nursing program at Lenoir Rhyne, formally initiated in the fall of 1960, now completes its first year as the official Department of Nursing. Junior and senior nursing students, having finished two years of fundamental instruction at Lenoir Rhyne, receive two years of clinical training at Grace Hospital in Morganton. They obtain both a B.S. degree and nursing certification after their four-year training. The Class of '64 acclaims Barbara Nix and Martha Ann Trexler, inductees into Santa Filomena honorary nursing society.

MARK COOPER
President

The doors swing wide again and attention centers on the Class of '66. A spirit of maturity distinguishes them from their former lowly status as freshmen. Closely unified under the guidance of class officers and other outstanding leaders, the sophomore class has accomplished much during the year 1963-1964. They . . . claim to have organized the best Rat Week ever seen on this campus . . . entered a beautiful float and a truck (which never quite made it) in the Homecoming Parade . . . supported Judi Ginader in the Daisy Mae contest . . . originated a popular and enjoyable Christmas Carol Singing in the College Center . . . nominated Diana Groce and Jeanne Smith to represent their class in the newly-organized Miss Hacawa contest . . . enjoyed the class's Valentine coffee party, better known as the unique Kaffeeklatsch . . . sponsored the semi-formal Valentine's Dance for the entire student body . . . and elected representatives for the May Day festivities. The climax of the year came when they could call themselves upperclassmen—Juniors at last!

ED KETCHIE
President

The Junior Class looks back through the doors to a year filled with accomplishments. Among these were the creating of a homecoming float, sponsoring the student-faculty basketball game and the monstrous job of planning the Junior-Senior Banquet. It was fun and rewarding to assume the lofty status of an upperclassman and to the air of a new-found maturity. We struggled through our major subjects with the terrifying realization that "we've gone too far to quit." But, with the magic year of '65 drawing near, we are glad that the hopes, the laughter, and the pride of accomplishments outweighed the fears and struggles. Now the word "senior" rings in our ears.

DOUG STOWE AND JUDY DAVIS

SENIOR CLASS

A penny for your thoughts.

Studious Clyde—ambition plus.

Hickory High "teachers": "T.G.I.F."

SENIOR OFFICERS

Final footsteps are taken toward the long-cherished diploma as students take their place in the Senior Class. Finality seems the keyword throughout the year as seniors view their "last" football game, dress for their "last" college formal, hold their "last" class meeting. The class is characterized by diamond rings and marriage bands . . . sleepy-eyed student teachers at 7 o'clock breakfast . . . the happy few claiming graduate fellowships and assistantships. Highlights of the year included the Sadie Hawkins' dance, with Judy Davis ably representing the class . . . ordering class rings . . . the Junior-Senior. The doors will close behind the seniors as they leave the campus, only to open again as the graduates re-appear in various positions in society. The Class of '64 looks forward to their first reunion in 1969.

Among Students in American Universities and Colleges

Chosen on the basis of participation in student activities, contributions to the College, and promise of future success, nineteen seniors and one junior were selected for listing in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. With Dean Setzler serving as coordinator, selection was made by an anonymous nine-member committee consisting of four students, three faculty members, and two members of the administration.

Organizational Presidents

Often busy, yet oft' overlooked—these are the people who work enthusiastically to keep organizations in “active duty” during the year. Each group renders an individual contribution to the panorama of campus activities. Organizational presidents thus play an outstanding role in the life of the college family.

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS

Elected last spring during a well-supported campus campaign, the four student body officers managed the reins of the student government with competency. As stipulated by the student government handbook, the president presides at Student Cabinet and Student Court meetings . . . calls special meetings and appoints necessary officers . . . reports violations of the college constitution to the Student Court. The vice-president presides at meetings of the Student Commission . . . serves as chairman of the Committee on Elections . . . presides at Open Forums. The secretary keeps minutes and manages mountainous volumes of correspondence . . . while the treasurer disburses student government fees and heads the Budget Board.

Together the officers serve as spokes in the gigantic wheel of student government which affects all students on the Lenoir Rhyne campus.

Executive Committee—Dreikorn, Cooper, Briggs, Satterwhite, Pugh, Plonk.

STUDENT CABINET

Vested with the highest student authority in legislative matters, the Student Cabinet strives to promote the general welfare of all students, both in academic standing and in co-curricular participation.

The Cabinet is composed of the four officers of the Student Body, the four representatives from each of the four academic classes, one representative from the one-year commercial class, and three ex-officio members.

These members gather every Tuesday night seeking means to improve the life of the students at Lenoir Rhyne College. It is largely the work and dedication of these students that further the success of Student Government at Lenoir Rhyne.

Seated: Jim Peper, Mary Elizabeth Violette, Alva Lea Herman, Susan Gribble, Carole Plonk, Betty Pugh, Terry Satterwhite, Bill Dreikorn, Mark Cooper, Lee Lambie, Jim Bangle, Larry Yoder.

STUDENT COURT

The highest appellate court within the Lenoir Rhyne student government, the Student Court tries the cases of those students charged with a major constitutional violation.

Members: Norman Junker, Kathy Rhoads, Steve Huddle, Terry Satterwhite, Christa Janz, John Lingle, Karen Dohrmann, Bill Dreikorn.

Appointed by the Student Cabinet, the court members include two seniors and one each from the junior, sophomore, and freshman classes. Decisions of the Court are printed in the Lenoir Rhynean.

STUDENT COMMISSION

This governing body recommends to the Student Cabinet any policy concerning the citizenship and general welfare of students, and it serves as the appellate court for lower judicial bodies. Annually it prepares the "Guide to Campus Policy" which states rules and regulations for campus conduct. The student body vice-president presides over the ten-member group which includes a representative from each dorm and five day students elected from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes.

Members: Pat Cauble, Terri Ross, Fran Lambert, Sarah Latta, Bill Dreikorn, Nancy Settlemyre, Norman Junker, Jim Summerlin, Joyce Plonk, Iris Keever.

CAMPUS VISITORS

Entertainers and lecturers of note visited the Lenoir Rhyne College Campus throughout the year, bringing memorable concerts and pertinent speeches to the college family. Among the visitors not pictured were Vaughn Monroe, nation-wide crooner, who publicized the K-O polio drive . . . Andrew Tully, White House correspondent, who gave insight on the program of the CIA . . . Dr. George Buttrick, former Harvard professor and present editor of a 12 volume Bible commentary, visiting Danforth Lecturer . . . and Roger Williams, popular pianist and recording star, who presented a local concert and crowned his choice for Miss Hacaawa.

CONTEMPORARY ARTS FESTIVAL

Last year's successful Religious Arts Festival—a new cultural venture on the Lenoir Rhyne scene—set the stage for further campus programs emphasizing the arts. This year's contribution took a new slant in the form of the Contemporary Arts Festival. Featuring both students and professional talent in the fields of literature, arts, and music, the four-day program included art displays . . . an organ recital . . . a movie, "The Seventh Seal" . . . a modern "Antigone" . . . the unique Poetry-Jazz Concert featuring the music of Loonis McGlohon. Climaxing the exciting new event was the a cappella choir's rendition of Twentieth Century Folk Mass, with Chaplain Bob Walker singing the role of the cantor. Plans are currently being made for next year's program.

The ancient Greek tragedy, "Antigone," is presented in contemporary setting by the Playmakers.

Charles Hadley, Queens College professor, reads student contributions to the campus poetry contest.

The bohemian setting of the Poetry-Jazz Concert brings droves of students to hear two Charlotte poets read modern literature against an appropriate jazz background.

1963-64 Co-Directors

Highly selected from a large group of applications, the 1963-64 Campus Guides were carefully trained early in the spring of '63. Under the direction of co-directors Ronnie Damm and Betty Pugh, the campus guides led freshmen and transfers through a rigorous six-weeks' training program. Answering questions . . . selling badges and beanies . . . producing "Club Continental Goes Hawaii," outstanding talent show . . . monitoring tests . . . shepherding small groups on guided campus tours . . . were among the numerous tasks of this busy group.

RELIGIOUS COUNCIL

The Religious Council unites representatives from all eight organized religious groups on campus. In an effort to illustrate Christian unity, the Council strives to promote a religious atmosphere on the campus of this college . . . to instill a Christian attitude toward the pursuit of knowledge . . . and to foster a spirit of fellowship and cooperation among the members of all religious groups. The Faith and Life series . . . Wednesday chapel services at St. Andrew's . . . Campus Chest drive for World University Service and the Japan International Christian University—all are services sponsored by the Religious Council.

FORENSICS

Under the coaching of Professor Bud Brown, the L. R. debaters this year showed a new-found strength gained through experience. At Wake Forest, Emory, Appalachian, Annapolis, Florida State, and finally, LRC's own South Atlantic Forensic Tournament, the debaters fought the question, "Resolved: The Federal Government should guarantee the opportunity for higher education to all qualified high school graduates." Sophomore Bill Mauney and Junior Ed Ketchie took honors as a cracker-jack team. The promising debaters await another season and another try at future tournaments.

PLAYMAKERS

Large in number and active in service—these are the Lenoir Rhyne Playmakers, an enthusiastic group of dramatists who spend a large portion of their time behind the floodlights and under the make-up. Directed by a veteran actor-teacher-director, the Playmakers spent many long evenings in preparation for their productions of the year. Especially effective was their interpretation of Antigone, Jean Anouilh's version of the Sophocles' tragedy which the group presented for the Contemporary Arts Festival. Other memorable productions this year included Time Limit, Winterset, and My Three Angels.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

Reassembling with enthusiasm last fall, the Lenoir Rhyne A Cappella Choir built itself up to its usual outstanding reputation, despite a heavy loss of seniors last year. Sixty voices strong, the choir has trekked to both New York and Chicago within the past two years. Last spring's midwestern tour recalls memories of a free day in the "Windy City's" Loop . . . a look at the Kentucky Derby grounds in Louisville . . . the race track at Indianapolis . . . a night in Greek frat houses on the Wittenberg campus. This year's trip made a circular route through northern Virginia and eastern North Carolina. "Twentieth Century Folk Mass" during Contemporary Arts Festival . . . spring tour and local concert . . . graduation party in May.

HOWARD BARNHARDT, All-America center.

Bread-and-butter man.

The 1964 Honor Men page is indeed barren, indicative of the off seasons suffered by this year's teams. But honor is given only where honor is due, and it is for this reason the 1964 Hacawa salutes these outstanding athletic performers.

Howard Barnhardt, co-captain of the football team, was honored by selection to the NAIA second team, All-American squad. In addition to this honor, he was named to both the District 26 NAIA and All-Conference teams. Records have a tendency to speak for themselves; "Barney's" outstanding plays will long be remembered.

Other football honor men included Craig Wardlaw, All-Conference back and winner of the team trophy for high academic average. David Elder received a trophy as outstanding freshman player. Mike Pope won the Kirkland Blocking Trophy and "Team-Before-Self" award. Robert Shore was honored by the L.R. coaching staff for his outstanding sportsmanship, and Ron Buick captured the Outstanding Lineman trophy.

Lenoir Rhyne basketball fans will long remember the tremendous performances of Ed Miasowski. His all-round ability won for him a place on the All-Conference team. Due to his outstanding play in the conference tourney he was named most valuable player and Athlete of the Week by the Greensboro Daily News.

FOOTBALL

The Lenoir Rhyne College football team made sports history in 1963. For the first time in ten years the Bears had a losing record.

The Carolinas Conference crown fell from the heads of the Bruins this year, but it was not taken without a rugged battle on the part of every player who donned the red and black. Having lost last year some of the finest gridiron talent which Lenoir Rhyne has ever produced, Lenoir Rhyne fans held dim hope as the 1963 season rolled around. Yet in their first two games the Bears knocked off Wofford and Presbyterian, thus arousing speculation that early estimations might be wrong.

In the Wofford game the team fought fiercely to a 16-6 victory. An early score by the Bears saw them win 7-0 against Presbyterian. But the succeeding encounter gave Newberry a 27-14 win, as a stern struggle by Lenoir Rhyne was in vain.

Fate was highly unkind to the Bruins in many of the following games. Although the squad managed only two final seconds of the game elapsed that winning took a little more than endurance. Wittenberg "won" by a meager point, 28-27.

In the fact that Lenoir Rhyne football teams have always been sensational, it might be said that too much was expected of this year's squad. It is very easy to forget that the fantastic Bears are only human. BASKETBALL

With a feeble start but a spirited team, the Bears' basketball season got under way. Winning none of the first five games, hopes for a successful future were dim. But never say die to the Lenoir Rhyne Bears, for the team came back with a "sound and a fury" seldom heard in the sports realm. Although hard hit by the loss of three tremendous players last year, the Bruins were no less potent as "Spoil-sports" in the conference. Yet the most astounding part of the entire season was the steady uphill grind which eventually led to their greatest attainment of the year—the Conference Championship!

With the fine coaching ability of Bill Wells and the services rendered by an inexperienced yet determined team, the Bears managed many foes with ease, poise, and "guts." Challenged in close games by strong conference teams, the "Savage Seven" found superb basketball spirit in versatile Neill McGeachy, stalwart Ed Miastkowski, crafty Jim Ehlers, big George Deehan, and deadly Frank Bua. These five carried the major load as the Bears found target after target to attack.

As the season progressed Ed "Mouse" Miastkowski and Neill McGeachy managed a great deal of the scoring with 20.0 and 13.4 point averages, respectively. When the statistics were finally tallied, "Mouse" had ripped the nets for a total output of 586 points.

Regular season play ended with the Bears claiming a 14-11 record plus a fifth-place holding in the Carolinas Conference. Tournament play opened with the "Savage Seven" taking on Catawba for a comfortable win, 57-51. The stage was now set for L.R.'s victory surge. The team came out on the floor in the next game to wipe out Pfeiffer by an easy 72-58 score. Tension rose in both the players and fans since now only a strong High Point team stood in the way of the Conference crown for the hard-fighting Lenoir Rhyne team.

Playing a slow methodical game, the "Savage Seven" ground out an amazing 31-30 victory for the Conference championship. This was truly a fitting climax to a season filled with both heartbreaks and happiness.

BASEBALL

The 1963 Baseball Bears (pictured below) got off to a fine start, winning four of their first five games. It looked for a time like a repeat of the 1962 season in which the Bears battled for the conference crown before fading out in the final week of the season. However, after this encouraging start the team faltered, finishing the season with a mediocre overall record of seven wins and eleven losses. The Bears managed to win only three of nine conference games.

Gary Hinkle, All-Conference pitcher in 1962 with a perfect record, never managed to regain his winning form. He finished the season with a disappointing 3-5 chart. Tom Brown led Lenoir Rhyne hitters with a batting average of .313. He was followed closely by Brennan Elliott's .306 mark.

Altogether, it was a disappointing season for a team that failed to reach maximum potential.

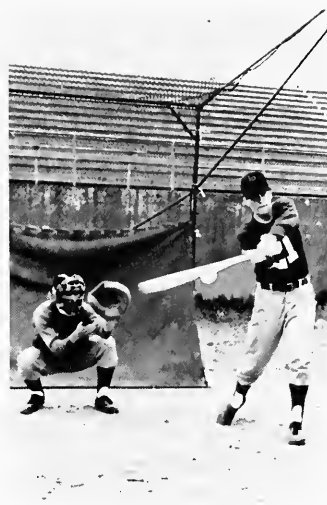

Coach Cornwell pauses in practice with the co-captains of the 1964 baseball team—Elliott, Brittain, Ehlers, and Fox.

Bottom row: Truesdail, Elliott, J. Hinkle, G. Hinkle, Gadd, Fox, Burns.

TRACK

Lenoir Rhyne's track team had a fine season in 1963. Steadily improving throughout the year, the cindermen were in prime condition and displayed their proficiency often in capturing victories over "would-be" challengers. In regular season meets they won three while losing two. Yet in one of these losses Lenoir Rhyne placed second in a tri-meet against Davidson and Catawba.

The trackmen proved to be very strong in the relays held during the year. At Greenville, S. C., where the News-Piedmont Relays were held, they turned in a remarkable performance against a large number of schools; but Tennessee Tech won the meet, edging out L.R. by a single hard-fought point. In the Davidson Relays the Bears had a good day against 15 teams, finishing third behind Davidson and Washington & Lee. To end the season in style, the able athletes found breaking the tape easy in the process of crowning themselves NAIA and Carolinas Conference Champions in a meet held in Greensboro.

Ripley and Moehlmann display outstanding form.

PANHELLENIC

Keeping a governing hand over the activities of the four national sororities on campus is Panhellenic Council, which in turn is regulated under national auspices. Composed of two women from each sorority, the council meets bi-weekly and keeps in close contact with each sorority. Officers' positions rotate among the four sororities from year to year. This year, as in the past, Panhellenic helped sponsor the memorable Greek Presentation Ball for the new pledges of each of the Greek organizations on campus.

This was a year of growth, maturity, and unity for those within the circle of Kappa Delta sisterhood. Still glowing with memories of last spring's colorful "luau," the sisters assembled this fall with enthusiastic plans for the year. Rush included . . . the exciting "KD Hades" at the Shuford cabin . . . the beautiful Greek-garden setting for the White Rose Ceremony . . . 15 terrific pledges . . . alumni supper for the new "44". Honors for the year were numerous: six senior sisters in WHO'S WHO . . . national KD scholarship plaque for 3 consecutive semesters . . . Carole P., student body treasurer and Junior Woman Award . . . Margaret and Johnnie, Mu Sigma Epsilon honorees . . . Susie, May Queen and Azalea Festival participant . . . Susie, Joanne, and Joan, Miss Hacawa nominees . . . Lee, Mary H., and Katie, May Court Attendants . . . Judy L. and Margaret, chief Hacawa co-horts . . . Judy D., Best-All-Round senior . . . Miss April and Miss May, Sue G. and Mary M. . . . Katie, Terri, and Judy L., prexies of Panhellenic, Westminster, and ACE . . . Margaret W., Lutheran Brotherhood scholar . . . Mary M., National Luther League Sec.

Activities, too, kept the girls busy: making shakers for football games . . . creating Presentation Ball flowers at P. J. party . . . pledge participation in Talent Show . . . modeling spring fashions from Corner Casuals . . . Christmas party at N. C. Lutheran Home . . . holiday visit to needy family in Newton . . . sugary-sweet supper by the pledges . . . tea for lunch, pool with the boys, KD Help (?) Day ending with a "trial" by the sisters . . . successful shoe shine in the College Center . . . seeing Katie, Judy D., Terri, Patsy, and Judy K. cheering the football and basketball teams . . . numerous rehearsals for May Day and the Step-Sing . . . traditional beach trip to O. D. . . . Another wonderful year of KD memories.

A Sigma Kappa queen reigns on Turkey Day.

For some it's been the last year of a long and happy college career; for others the year has added a wonderful book of memories to be stored away, and for still others a new and exciting life has been opened up for them. But for all Sigma Kappas the year has been one that will leave a mark in the minds and the hearts that can never be forgotten.

Highlights for the past year in Sigma Kappa began with Miss Donna George receiving the titles of Who's Who and Miss Lenoir Rhyne . . . followed by successful rush parties . . . Judy Kelley's trip to Florida . . . the ski lodge party at the lake . . . Donna elected head majorette . . . three sisters receiving diamonds . . . two more being pinned . . . the Christmas party for the Empty Stocking Fund . . . the coffee hour for all the Greek sisters . . . the serenades for a graduating senior and the pledges . . . the visit from traveling secretary Janet Crist . . . decorating for the Homecoming parade . . . marching together to the fall pep rallies . . . and the spring trip to the beach. All contribute to a wonderful year in Sigma Kappa.

The 1963 addition of Delta Chi Chapter of Theta Chi Fraternity saw the Brothers engaged in many activities, both social and scholastic. The Brothers were pleased to receive the National Stanford Scholarship Trophy, the Stanford Scholarship Trophy for Small Colleges, and the Dean of Students highest fraternity average award for the fifth consecutive year. The Brothers feel that these awards have brought honors to L.R. Greeks and to the college as a whole.

Social activities also highlighted the year. Among these were the election of Theta Chi Sweetheart, Betty Friday . . . serenades . . . "the Apartment" . . . pledging and initiation week . . . Homecoming . . . Alumni meetings . . . trips to the Open Kitchen . . . monthly dinners with faculty members . . . Mason-Dixon Jubilee at N. C. ROGER WILLIAMS, "Mr. Piano"

Born last summer under the inspiration of the '64 Hacawa co-editors, the Miss Hacawa contest was created chiefly for the purpose of adding a colorful new feature to the yearbook. Miss Hacawa was selected according to her photogenic beauty, thus creating the position of a new campus queen chosen without a "popularity contest." The ten candidates were elected by class vote, with four seniors, three juniors, two sophomores and one freshman allotted by class seniority.

Roger Williams, popular piano recording star, was approached last fall by the Hacawa to choose the new queen via photographs. A Lutheran minister's son with a natural interest in our Lutheran-supported schools, Mr. Williams graciously consented and the letters began flying between Hickory and his home in Elcino, California. By happy coincidence, the College Center Program Board contracted Mr. Williams several weeks later to appear locally in a campus concert. Thus "Mr. Piano" himself was present on April 13 to announce his choice and crown the new queen.

A company is only as good as the people who work for it. Cone Mills through its people has achieved an enviable position as a major producer of high quality textiles. To maintain this position Cone needs sharp young people with initiative and intelligence. Cone offers opportunities in four areas . . . production, administration, sales and research. Interested in joining this progressive organization? Write Industrial Relations Department, Cone Mills Corporation, Greensboro, N. C.

All Your
Cost-of-Living
Items are Up...

BUT ONE!

In the past 20 years alone, most cost-of-living items have just about doubled in price . . .

Except for electricity, which has actually come down!

Fact! — Since 1943, the average cost of a kilowatt hour to Duke Power residential customers has dropped more than one-third. In that same period, the use of electricity has increased over 4 times, while the standard of living has gone up correspondingly.

It's truer today than ever before . . . you live better, for less, electrically.

EPILOGUE

The campus panorama now wanes . . . The past parade of college days ebbs slowly into Time . . .

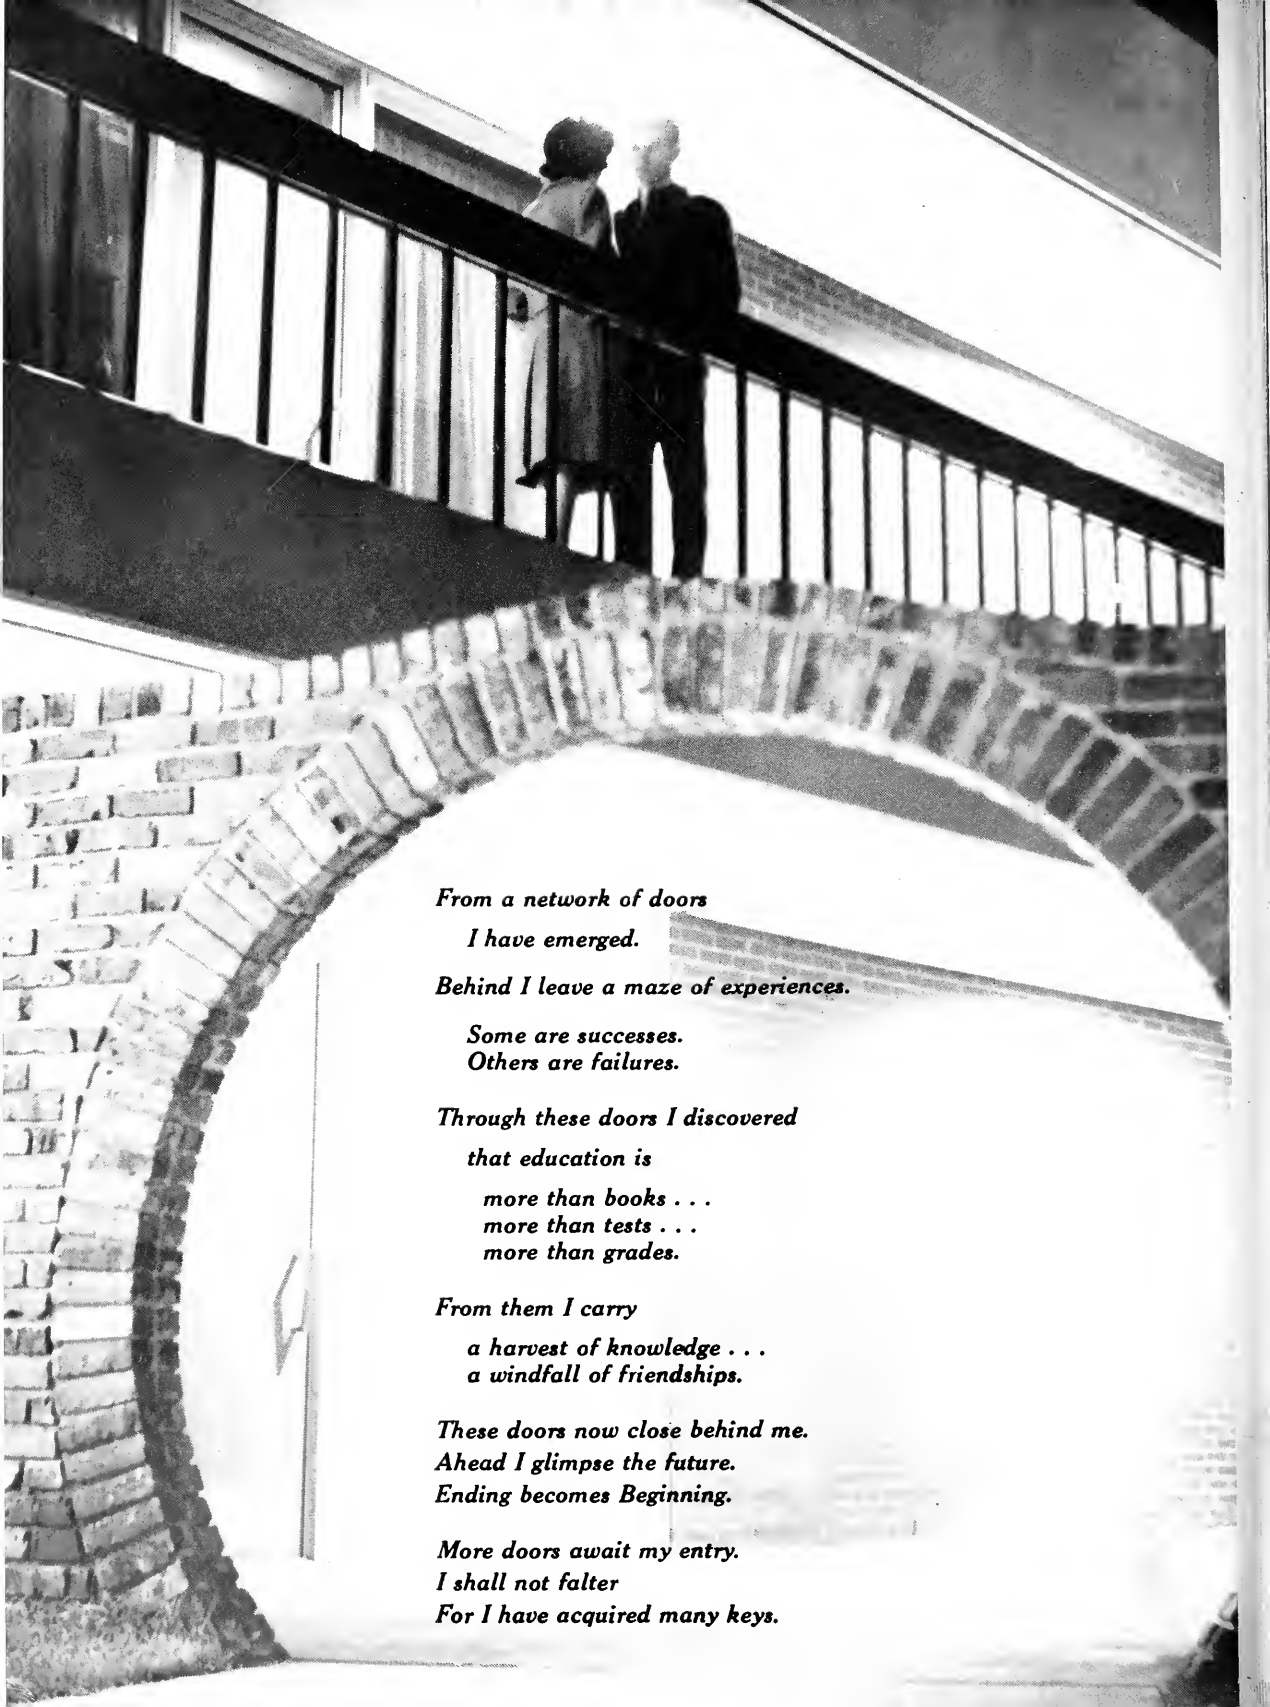

. . . . The agony and the ecstasy have mingled through the years

We remember them both, and smile, and look ahead

We will not forget them

Nor will we forget you, our own Lenoir Rhyne

From a network of doors

I have emerged.

Behind I leave a maze of experiences.

Some are successes.

Others are failures.

Through these doors I discovered that education is more than books . . .

more than tests . . .

more than grades.

From them I carry a harvest of knowledge . . .

a windfall of friendships.

These doors now close behind me.

Ahead I glimpse the future.

Ending becomes Beginning.

More doors await my entry.

I shall not falter

For I have acquired many keys.
